Introducing Bibliotherapy in Public Libraries of Jaffna district: an Exploratory Study

S Arulanantham, S Navaneethakrishnan

Abstract

This study investigates the role of the public library sector of Jaffna district in Northern Sri Lanka towards providing bibliotherapy as a service to the war affected people seeking help in solving their problems. Using Survey research method, collected data was analyzed to find out the awareness of the concept, acceptance of bibliotherapy as method of treatment, existence and suitability of bibliotherapy in public libraries and the attitude of the librarians to be a bibliotherapist. The study suggests the possibility of implementing bibliotherapy in public libraries of Jaffna district with the support of health authorities.

DOI: http://dx.doi.org/10.4038/jula.v17i2.6648

Keywords
Bibliotherapy; Bibliotherapy-Public libraries; Bibliotherapy - Library services; Reading therapy